LEPS III HONORS

COURSE PHILOSOPHY

LEPS III Honors is the culminating course in the four-year sequence of the Law Enforcement and Public Safety Career Academy. By offering experiential activities and deeper considerations of the enduring issues in public safety and service, students will build upon their knowledge of government, civics, society and career choices, as well as their critical thinking, writing, team-building and decision-making skills. This course is unique in that it will further prepare students to identify a specific career choice, outline a roadmap for achieving career goals, and to have the confidence to compete with other applicants for positions in public service.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

LEPS III Honors is designed as the culminating course for the Law Enforcement and Public Safety Career Academy with the intent to synthesize the content, experiences and skills identified and reinforced in previous LEPS courses. Students will be engaged in self-reflection and career/college planning while earning certifications in more extensive public safety issues, engaged in relevant real-world situations that require critical, analytical and synthesizing skills as well as effective communication and cooperation skills, and engaged with numerous public safety professionals who will share their knowledge and skills and support students' academic and professional growth. There are six units of study, each building upon the previous unit with experiential learning opportunities. All unit goals and essential questions are directly linked to the standards prescribed in the New Jersey Career and Technical Education Standards and Common Core State Standards.

COURSE SUMMARY

COURSE GOALS

CG1: Students will be able to identify a career choice, formulate an educational and professional training plan, and produce a professional portfolio to assist in gaining employment.

CG2: Students will apply the specific law enforcement, firefighting and emergency strategies and skills in order to protect themselves, others, and evidence when responding to emergency or volatile situations.

CG3: Students will earn professional certifications so they will be able to effectively assess and analyze emergency situations and make appropriate decisions in those situations.

COURSE ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS

CEU1: There are endless career opportunities within the law enforcement and public safety fields, many of which require degrees and knowledge in fields seemingly unrelated to police, emergency services and firefighting.

CEU2: Not following specific strategies and protocols when responding to emergencies can lead to injury, loss of lives, loss of evidence, or criminal actions.

CEU3: To effectively respond to emergency situations and maintain public safety, one must apply the various skills and tools used by law enforcement, fire fighters and emergency personnel.

COURSE ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

CEQ1a: How do I determine the best career path?

CEQ1b: What can I do to make myself the best candidate for a position?

CEQ2a: What could happen if you don't follow the safety strategies and protocols outlined by the agency?

CEQ2b: How can I balance the legal responsibilities of the job and my moral judgment/beliefs in circumstances of life and death?

CEQ3a: How do I determine the proper skills and tools based on the emergency at hand?

CEQ3b: Why is it necessary to self-reflect? How can I learn from the emergencies I respond to?
